Subcampeones del mundo de salsa y profesores del programa "Mira quién Baila" en OscaSalsa 2007

Huesca acoge por tercer año consecutivo el encuentro de salsa OscaSalsa 2007, que tendrá lugar los próximos 23, 24, 25 de febrero. Hasta la fecha, se han inscrito más de 250 personas provenientes de diversas ciudades españolas como Barcelona, Zaragoza, Pamplona e incluso Sevilla o Cádiz. Bailarines de gran prestigio como los subcampeones del mundo 2005 y 2006 y algunos de los profesores de la academia televisiva "Mira quién baila" se darán cita durante esos días en la capital.

Desde octubre, el hotel que albergará OscaSalsa 2007 ya comenzó a reservar habitaciones para este III Encuentro de Salsa. Ahora, con más de 250 personas inscritas, es imposible encontrar una habitación. Muchas han tenido que buscar un alojamiento alternativo. Y además, se espera que en las sesiones de baile, se alcancen los 600 participantes.

Para acoger a tanta gente, la organización del evento ha tenido que reservar el pabellón del parque municipal Miguel Servet y el pabellón de Magisterio. Estos dos pabellones junto con los dos salones de los que dispone el hotel albergarán los cuatro talleres de salsa que se realizarán de forma simultánea y que se dividen en tres niveles: iniciación, intermedio y avanzado. Expertos bailarines y profesores, entre los que se encuentran los subcampeones del mundo 2006 y 2005, serán los encargados de enseñar todos sus conocimientos. También se contará con la presencia de los profesores de la academia televisiva "Mira quien baila".

En esta ocasión, el encuentro está orientado en la búsqueda de los orígenes de la salsa. A través de los diferentes talleres y de la música, los participantes conocerán los verdaderos comienzos de la salsa. Y como novedad, el sábado habrá una sesión de baile por la tarde en la una radio en vivo se encargará de presentar cada canción.

La música hace vibrar a más de 600 bailarines en el encuentro "Oscasalsa"

La cita continúa hoy con talleres y charlas

HUESCA.- La música que más sonó ayer en Huesca fue la salsa, con el tercer encuentro "Oscasalsa" que se desarrolla durante este fin de semana y que ha reunido a más de 600 "adictos" a estos ritmos. El viernes "casi no nos vamos a dormir y había gente que hasta se emocionaba", comenta Cristina Zabaleta, una de las organizadoras. Amantes de la salsa han llegado "con muchísimas ganas" procedentes de toda España e, incluso, de Portugal y Francia.

La emoción y las ganas de diversión se respira en cada uno de los asistentes, alguno de los cuales no ha faltado a ninguna de las tres citas. Juan es, además de bailarín, profesor de salsa en Barcelona y destaca el "ambiente de fiesta" que se forma en Huesca en este encuentro. "Cada año hay más motivación, la gente se prepara mejor y desde el primer momento ha habido una evolución tremenda", apunta este amante de la salsa que recorre todos los encuentros que se organizan por el territorio nacional. "Esto es como un vicio", añade.

Ayer los participantes en el encuentro disfrutaron de varios talleres que estaban abiertos tanto a los que nunca han dado un paso, como para los expertos. Además se ofreció una sesión de radio en vivo en la que no podía faltar el baile, del que la gente salió "encantadísima". Una de ellas es Edurne, que ha venido por segunda ocasión desde Logroño. "No sé que tiene -dice esta joven de 27 años-, pero a nada que te guste bailar se forma un ambiente muy familiar. Esto es el paraíso".
